

The Benefits of Learned Societies

How to Use Your Membership

Biology Graduates

>70% in work or further education 15 months after graduating

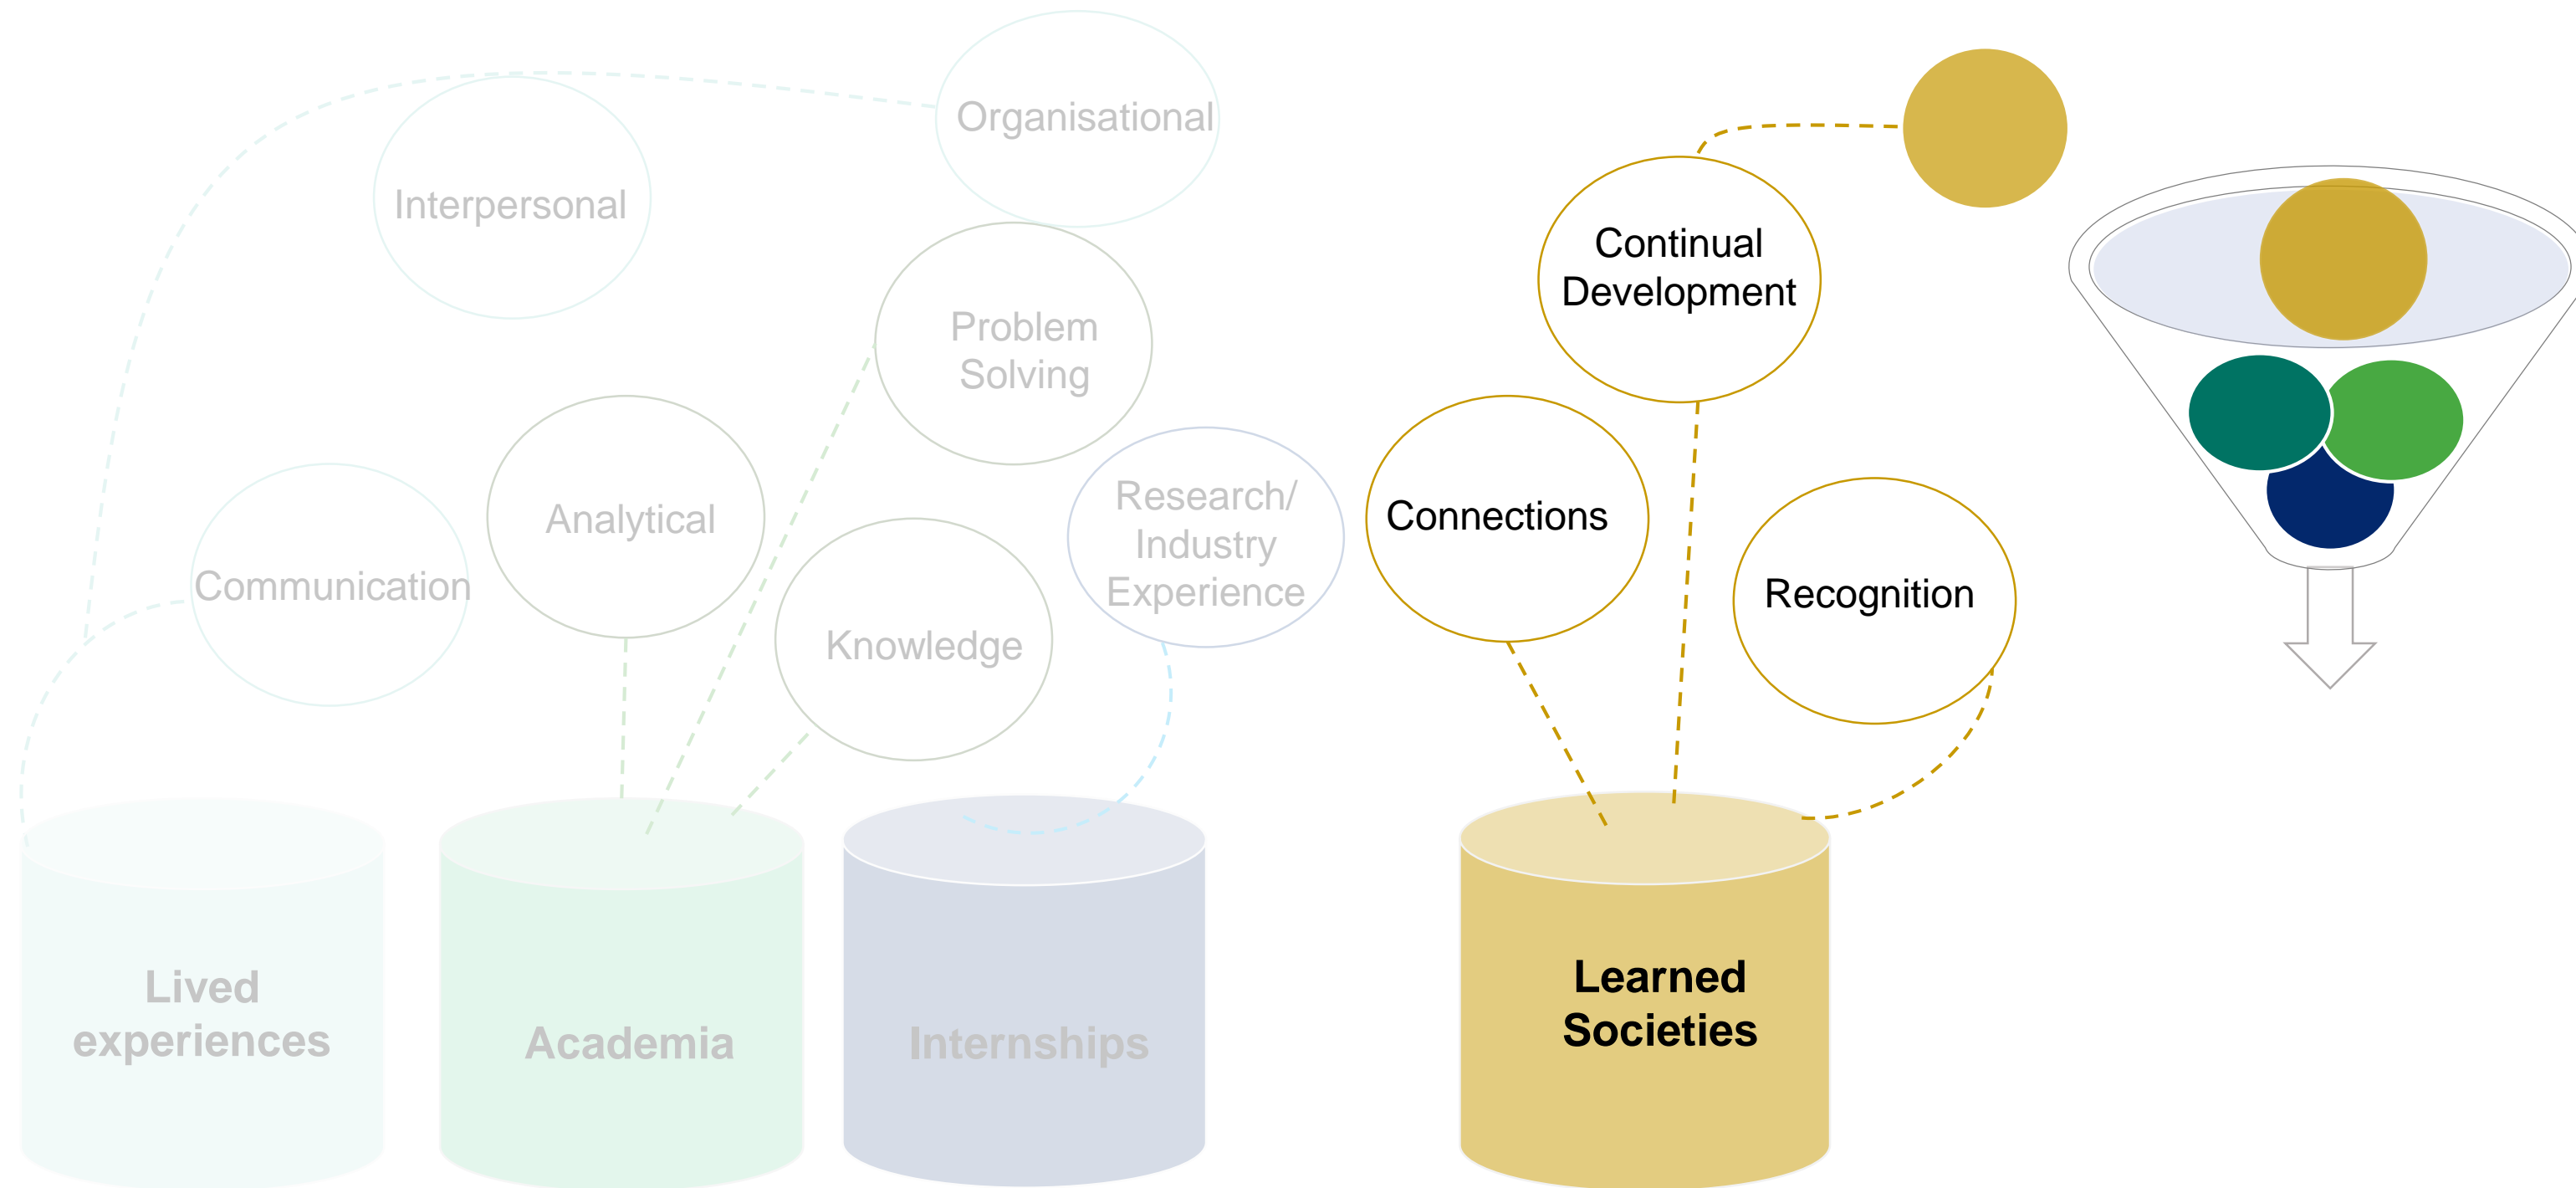

Top 5 professional jobs among graduates:

1. Laboratory Technician
2. Secondary Education Teaching Professionals
3. Biochemists & Biomedical Scientists
4. Biological Scientists
5. Conservation Professionals

Transferable Skills

Increase Your Visibility

What is a Learned Society?

A non-profit organisation seeking to promote a particular profession, field of research, or scholarly discipline, and to support individuals engaged in that area

Learned Societies are there to support their members

Grants, Prizes, & Competitions

Training & Professional Development

Events & Conferences

Publication Access & Discounts

Policy Engagement

Networking & Mentoring

Outreach & Working Groups

Case Study: A Look at RSB

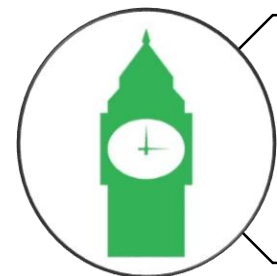

Our Membership

Our Individual Members include:

- Practising scientists and technicians
- Nobel Laureates
- Students at all levels
- Life sciences professionals
- Non-professionals interested in biology

Key Activities

Advise government and influence policy

Advance education and professional development

Support and represent people working in the biosciences

Engage and encourage public interest in the biosciences

Key Benefits

Join a network

1

Get Involved

- Volunteering roles at outreach and engagement events
- Join your local branch
- Annual Biology Week

Key Benefits

Profile raising & recognition

Develop Professionally

- Access CPD scheme
- Apply for professional registrations
- Discounted access to training courses
- Exclusive member grants and awards

Key Benefits

Lifelong learning &
discovery

3

Explore the Biosciences

- Award-winning members' magazine, The Biologist
- Access to free & discounted events
- Regular newsletters on developments in science and the RSB's work

Find Your Community

- Expand your network
- Strengthen your CV
- Career support
- Training & development tools
- Funding for travel or research

Join Today

Join the RSB today for just £15 a year with an exclusive three months of additional free membership

<https://my.rsb.org.uk/BCD22>

Questions?

<https://my.rsb.org.uk/BCD22>

Contact

www.rsb.org.uk/join

membership@rsb.org.uk