

BERG at ASE Annual Conference 2023 at Sheffield Hallam University

The special BERG day at ASE is Thursday 5 January 2023

The talks are as follows and take place in rooms EMB3015 and EMB3016

Start time	End time	Title	Main presenter	Affiliation
08:30	09:25	Why do STEM graduates become teachers of STEM subjects?	Donna Dawkins	University of Birmingham
09:30	10:25	Research review - The power of plants to enrich biology teaching and learning	Alistair Moore and Dan Jenkins	University of York and SAPS
09:30	10:25	Transitioning observation in science into thinking about the nature of science	Keith Chappell and Aryn Litchfield	Canterbury Christchurch University
11:00	11:55	The importance of embedding plants throughout A-level biology	Chris Graham	Hills Road Sixth Form and SAPS
11:00	11:55	Curiosity and Big Questions: Primary Biology and cross-curricular learning	Mina Cullimore and Sherralyn Simpson	Canterbury Christchurch University
12:00	13:45	RECEPTION for BERG (lunch provided) - All BERG members welcome STEM Atrium Internal Bridge (A)
15:30	16:25	Biology for all, but is it?	Sue Dale Tunnicliffe	UCL IOE and CASTME
15:30	16:25	Rethinking our approach to genomics teaching	Francesca Gale and Jeremy Airey	Wellcome Connecting Science and UYSEG
16:30	17:25	"I'll never look at moss in the same way again" Moss Safari and STEM	Andrew Chandler-Grevatt	University of Brighton

Conference details can be found here: ASE Annual Conference 2023

Conference Programme: ASEConf2023 - Schedule